FIRST DAYS AT VU

With the opening days of college comes the adjustment to a new way of life; for freshmen, making new friends and becoming independent; for seniors, renewing their old friendships and "cracking the books" for another year.

These days include such activities as the long wait through registration line, officially becoming a freshman—symbolized by the beanie— the traditional "tug-of-war" between the freshmen and seniors, and the hectic process of buying books. And finally, there is time for just relaxing in the shade with new friends.

LIFE AT VINCENNES

Life at Vincennes is a hectic combination of work and fun. The college atmosphere on the V.U. campus is a friendly lure to anyone who wants to be a part of the lively college scene.

Good times are in existence everywhere. The anxious peeks in the mailbox for letters from friends, sociable chats with friends during spare time, and snacking in the Union are just a few of the pastimes of V.U. students. "Siggy," the canine friend of Sigma Pi, offers an immediate attraction to any dog lover.

These events and others all offer memories to anyone who wishes to reach out and keep them.

GOOD TIMES AT V.U.

Good Times at V.U. are . . . playing in the leaves on a Saturday afternoon;
walking to town to do your shopping;
going to the river between classes;
studying at the library;
going to dances to meet new guys;
yelling out the windows at girls;
all night for guys;
hours for girls;
being late to class;
term papers due tomorrow morning;
going to the nurse and dying before she returns from lunch;
working on the yearbook until 2:00
in the morning;
borrowing railroad lights;
having a patriotic john;
waiting forever in the cafeteria line;
learning to drink and smoke;
parking in a no-parking zone;
finding out red towels and white shirts can't be washed together;
togetherness: everyone working to help each other achieve their goals.

People trudging through the snow to classes.

Art classes come out when everything blooms.

IN APPRECIATION: A TRIBUTE TO MRS. MARIE MCQUAID

This is just a note of thanks to a grand lady—Marie McQuaid. For seven years, from 1963 until Jim's death in 1969, Mr. and Mrs. McQuaid served as faculty advisors to Le Revoir, in addition to being co-managers of the Old Post Book Store. Mrs. McQuaid continued to serve Le Revoir throughout the production of the 1970 edition.

During her time with Le Revoir she met many people who will always remember her as the lady who was always there in the times of need as well as the times of joy. Even today she never fails to ask, "How's the yearbook?"

Shakespeare once said, "Some are born to greatness, some achieve greatness, and some have greatness thrust upon them." This reminds us of a story Mrs. McQuaid is fond of telling. One night while they were attending a basketball game (Jim was always an avid Trailblazer fan), President Beckes turned to them and asked, "How would you two like to be sponsors of the yearbook?" Naturally, they quickly accepted. What they did not find out until later, however, was that in addition to advising the 1964 yearbook, they would also have to undertake completion of the 1963 yearbook. Not only did they successfully complete this task, but they continued to supervise the production of many more editions.

SPRING

Beta Xi wins the "Littlest 500" tricycle race.

The 'Littlest 500'

Bike racing, tricycle riding, and a pie-throwing contest were a few of the activities during V.U.'s "Littlest 500" Weekend. Students as well as alumni look forward to the weekend as a welcome event in the spring.

Under a lowering sky which constantly threatened to rain out the race, Men's East Hall swept to first place, but was later disqualified on a technicality. Sigma Pi was awarded the top trophy. They need only one more victory to claim the traveling trophy. Beta Xi won the third annual Tricycle Race.

The "Littlest 500" Weekend climaxed spring and is one of the most eventful weekends on campus.

COMMUNITY SERIES

Throughout the past year, the students of VU have had many opportunities to increase their awareness of culture through the Community Series.

Among the programs this year were the concert put on by the Pantomime University Band, "A Whitman Portrait," Rubinoff and his Violin, the Mark Howard-Lyn Blair Duo, and "The Gang," put on by Oakland City College.

The Community Series has become a popular activity on campus, and we anticipate many more interesting performances in the years to come.

3rd runner-up Shirley Shockley receives her trophy from Joe Tipton, Student Senate President.

The Cast from "110 in the Shade" sings a scene from their production.

Sigma Pi won first place with their skit, "VU's Lone Ranger."

Talent and variety were combined to make the Spring Variety Show excellent entertainment.

Sigma Pi fraternity won first place with its presentation of a western skit, "Cowboys and Indians." Alpha Theta Chi took second place with scenes from "Bye, Bye, Birdie." Third place went to Men's East Hall for its "Peanuts Skit." A trophy for the most original skit went to UCCF for their performance about Raggedy Ann.

U.C.C.F performs a skit entitled "Raggedy Ann."

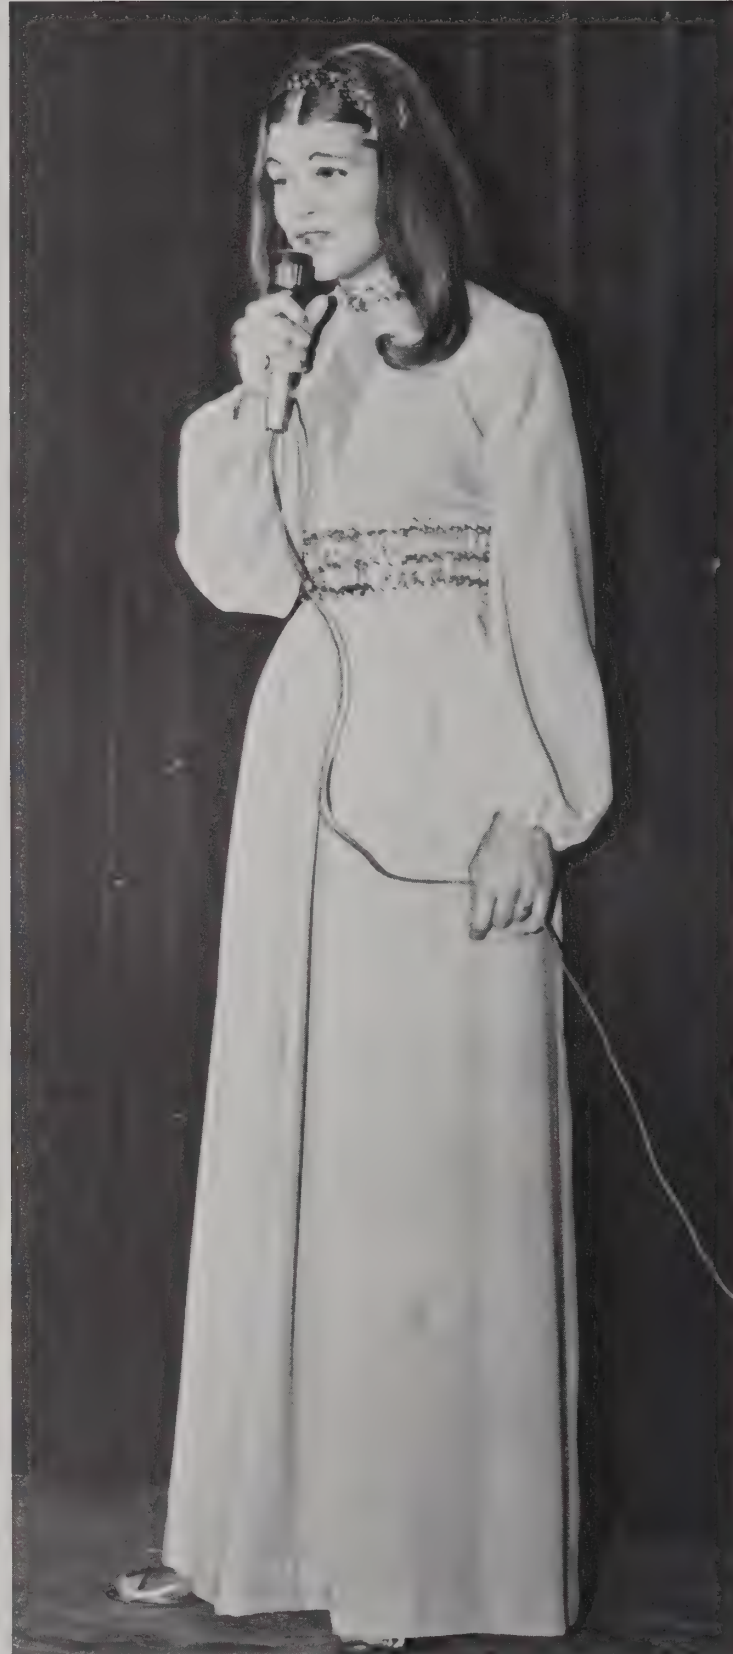

MISS VINCENNES UNIVERSITY

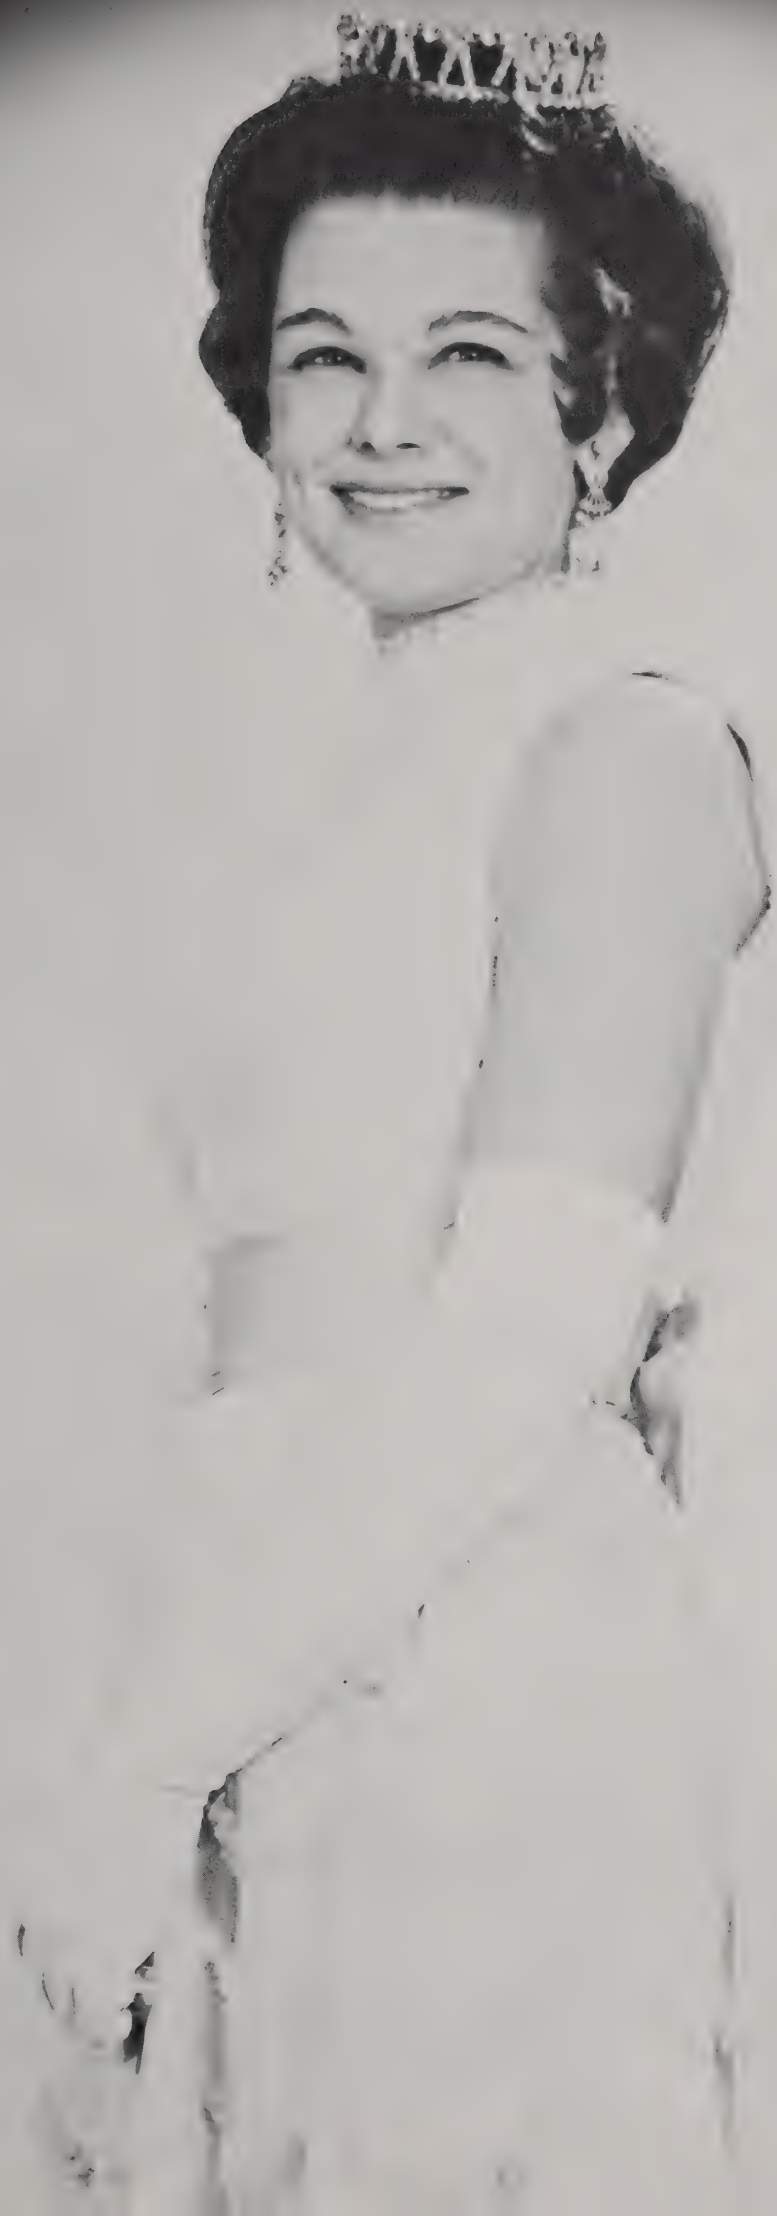

Due to the unfortunate accident of Stephanie J. Zaparcha, Sharon Young, the first runner-up in the Miss VU Pageant took over the duties of Miss VU.

Sharon was qualified to take part in the Miss Indiana Pageant at Michigan City, Indiana, and was chosen as Miss Congeniality.

Miss Young is very active on campus. She is a Liberal Arts major and a Theta Psi Omega Little Sister. Sharon represents VU in many civic activities in the community.

GRADUATION

Graduation—a time for memories, hopes, and realities. Help and guidance are past, as each graduate now faces the future “on his own.”

Baccalaureate and commencement ceremonies were held in the gymnasium. Dr. John Pruis, President of Ball State University, gave the commencement address. Dr. Isaac K. Beckes conferred 487 degrees and certificates of graduation.

The anticipation of a new life is the hope of every graduate.

Practice flipping those tassels makes perfect.

Excitement is opening presents after Graduation.

Happy days are here.

The Big Brother and Big Sister program began in Vincennes in September of 1970. The purpose of the program, which now has thirty-three VU students, is to help children from broken homes in the Vincennes area.

It is the responsibility of the Big Brother and Big Sister to help the child with his studies and personal problems as well as to entertain him

TUG-OF-WAR

With all their might the Freshmen pulled, but it was no use. The Freshman girls and boys both lost to the seniors in the annual "Tug-of-War" this fall. As a result, the Freshmen had to wear their "beanies" for an extra week.

GREEK WEEKEND

Fred Schrader looks over the hamburgers during the Greek Weekend feast.

The purpose behind Greek Weekend is to unite the fraternities and sororities on campus in an effort to achieve better communication and understanding between them.

The Greek organizations displayed examples of sorority and fraternity life at the Friday night dance, featuring The "Sounds Unlimited," from Decatur, Illinois. The concert Saturday night by Leo Kottke, a Spanish guitar player and singer, was enjoyed by all who attended.

All the greeks get together for a big session at the Pi House.

CHILI SUPPER

Dr. Beckes takes a big bowl of chili.

Too many cooks spoil the broth.

Since 1953 the Chili Supper has been an annual event. It is sponsored by the alumni, and is attended by hundreds of students, faculty, staff and alumni, as well as town people.

Each organization on campus has the opportunity to sponsor a booth to raise money for various projects and trips, and Green Auditorium is turned into a veritable "market place."

Art Radke and Deb Peelman enjoy the chili supper.

In the fall came Dad's Weekend. Some of the activities planned for the dads during the weekend were a softball game, luncheons, a concert featuring the Brothers Four, and the variety show.

Another home run for the sons.

DADS ENJOY THEIR WEEKEND

The Brothers Four played for the Dads and Sons on Saturday night of Dad's Weekend. They were very well liked by all.

DAD'S WEEKEND VARIETY SHOW

A bright, lively, and entertaining air characterized the Dad's Weekend Variety Show. The variety show featured musical and comedy performances by competitive groups, and by individual singers and dancers.

Theta Psi Omega fraternity and their little sisters took first place with an old-fashioned western "hoe-down." Second place was captured by Delta Gamma Iota and their little sisters with a comedy singing performance of "Anything You Can Do, I Can Do Better." Alpha Theta Chi sorority and Morris Hall tied for third place.

Sigma Pi fraternity won the award for the best skit, and the sorority sisters of Beta Xi took the director's trophy.

HOMECOMING 1970

Outhouses top the bonfire for the 1970 Homecoming.

"A Wonderful World of Color" was the theme for Homecoming 1970. The campus looked like an artist's palette with the many colorful lawn displays and the floats entered in the Homecoming Parade. A bonfire in the rain paved the way for the Blazer victories later that week. Other Homecoming events were the Freshman and Senior Convocation, dances with the "Willie Mitchell Group" and the "If," the crowning of the Homecoming Queen, and open house.

Miss Brenda Wilson became the first Black girl crowned as Homecoming Queen.

Emison and Harrison Halls combined their efforts to win the President's Trophy for the best float. The first place prize for lawn displays went to the Newman Center.

VU MUSIC THEATRE

The VU Music Theatre presents a production each semester. During the 1970-71 school year the Music Theatre performed "Carousel" and "Oklahoma."

On the auditorium stage, the words and lyrics take on a new meaning under the direction of Professor Charles Beall, general director of productions, and Professor Richard Ertel, musical director of productions.

Major roles were double-cast with different students alternating performances in the parts because of the abundance of talent present at VU.

"Carousel" and "Oklahoma" were huge successes, and we look forward to many more excellent performances from the VU. Music Theatre in the years to come.

BACHELOR OF THE YEAR DANCE

Due to the popularity of the Bachelor of the Year Dance, the Student Activities Advisory Board sponsored it again this year.

The election took place during the dance. Jon Pyle was declared Bachelor of the Year. The "Sounds Unlimited" played for the dance which was held on January 15.

AN INTRODUCTION TO MORRIS HALL

The ground breaking for the fourth residence hall began in September of 1969. This co-ed residence hall was occupied in September of 1970 and the food center opened in January of this year.

The John Morris Residence Hall and Food Service Center encompasses more than 19,000 square feet at a total construction cost of $2,000,000.

Morris Hall, with its TV, study and formal lounges, and recreation and laundry room facilities can accommodate 388 young men and women. The food center, featuring the latest in food center, featuring the latest in food handling and services equipment presently serves 800.

HUMANITIES BUILDING

The campus of Vincennes University is rapidly expanding. This year two new buildings are going up.

A new Humanities Building is under construction on Second Street. The new Humanities Building will be the center of learning for English and the Social Sciences.

NURSING BUILDING

The Nursing Building will house the Associate Degree Nursing and Practical Nursing Programs. This building is being built between the Green Auditorium and the Beckes Student Union.

These two new buildings will greatly improve and enlarge the VU campus facilities as well as promote a more organized atmosphere for education.

ACTIVITIES

THE TRAILBLAZER

The Trailblazer, V.U.'s weekly campus newspaper, is produced by the students in the Journalism Program, directed by Prof. Fred Walker, Jr. However, The Trailblazer sees itself as more than just a laboratory paper for the Journalism students. It is a publication committed to serving the needs of the greater campus community—faculty and administrators, as well as students. The paper attempts to do this by informing its campus audience and involving it in the events and issues important to V.U. life.

Bill Stevenson and Pat Glotzbach proofread

The Trailblazer.

The Trailblazer observed National Newspaper Week in October by giving over its entire editorial page to explanations of the several standing devices the paper has designed to encourage readers to use the paper as an authentic campus community forum. In addition to the usual "Letters to the Editor" section there is "The Reader's Rostrium," which permits a reader to "sound off" on a campus issue in some depth and detail, "Reader's Pad," which presents short comments by the students on a given issue, and "Inside Track," which is designed to answer questions for readers who can't find the answers from other sources.

Besides these features, The Trailblazer periodically has special sections which swell its normal eight tabloid pages to twelve pages, for example, the collection of human-interest stories on V.U. students in a section which heralds the arrival of spring, a four-page spread of interpretative stories on issues of concern to the students, and a special section of advance stories on activities and programs scheduled at V.U. for the following summer. In January, The Trailblazer added a new special section, "The Subject is WOMEN," to this agenda of annual special sections.

As a measure of The Trailblazer's success in meeting its readers' needs is the fact that the newspaper has won the Associated Collegiate Press's highest rating, "All American," for ten of the last eleven semesters. Also, in spring, 1970, The Trailblazer won seven awards in the annual twelve-category Indiana Collegiate Press Newspaper Contest, including the top honors in the Best News Story and Best Overall Make-up competition. The Trailblazer is prepared by the journalism students without prior faculty censorship, however there is a Campus Press Council, sponsored by the Journalism Program, but dominated by non-journalism persons, to which readers can carry complaints against the paper for any lapses into irresponsibility.

David Krewson, Paul Ingram, Mr. Fred Walker, Jr., Ernie Gouverneur, and Tom Repass—Editorial Board members.

pass—Editorial Board members.

Elihu Stout Hall, occupied by the Journalism Program and by the Graphic Reproduction Program in February, 1970, is "home" to The Trailblazer (and, to a real extent, to its hardworking staff). This school year was the first full one for the campus paper in its bright, newly-equipped quarters on the top floor of the three-level Stout Hall. It was here that the Journalism Program was co-host with the Southern Illinois University school of Journalism to a two-day Junior College Journalism Conference in October.

Elihu Stout Hall is named for the founder of The Indiana Gazette, the first newspaper in the Indiana Territory. The structure was originally built in 1884 as a barrel-storage building for a thriving Vincennes brewery. Closed during the Prohibition, the building was acquired by the University in 1960, and rehabilitated in 1969-1970.

ALPHA THETA CHI

Founded February 16, 1950, the Alpha Theta Chi sorority is the oldest on campus. Its goal is to bring the women students into a closer relationship with each other, to encourage campus leadership, and to promote service to the community.

Money-making projects of Alpha Theta Chi include bake sales, sponsoring dances, and raffles. Sponsoring a Homecoming float, the Founder's Day Banquet, and a booth at the annual Chili Supper are other activities. Participation in the Variety Show, the Multiple Sclerosis Drive and the Jaycees' "Honey Sunday" head up the list of numerous events in the sorority.

Members of the Student Senate discuss budgeting.

The main purpose of the Student Senate is to provide a connection between the administration and the students at Vincennes University. It is the voice of the students; an outlet for their criticism and praise of the university's policies.

One of the many jobs under the Senate's direction is to plan the activities for the school year. Out of the All-Campus Events Budget the Senate pays for the dances, concerts, lectures, and the community series held on campus. The Senate also recognizes new clubs, co-ordinates all campus elections, and publishes the student handbook.

Through its efficient organization of student activities and handling of students' problems, the Student Senate has become a respected organization, and has gained much recognition from both students and administrators.

Beta Xi sorority was founded May 20, 1966, to promote good will between the sisters and the surrounding community, to contribute to the social environment of Vincennes University, and to induce perpetual sisterhood in an organization its members can be proud of.

Activities of Beta Xi include sponsoring various dances, intramural sports, and bake sales. The members have a Founders' Day Banquet as well as Alumni Weekend each year, and a sorority picnic during the summer. They also sponsor a homecoming queen and enter a float in the annual homecoming competition.

Beta Xi has won the intramural trophy for the last two years, and they hope to keep it by winning for the third year in a row.

HOME ECONOMICS CLUB

The objectives of the Home Economics Club are to promote interest in the field of home economics, to initiate community service projects, and to sponsor social events.

The members have a committee to visit the homes of convalescents in Vincennes. They will again help to sponsor this year's Chili Supper, and will participate in the Indiana Home Economics Association Convention in the spring. The sale of cookbooks and the production of an "Alice of Old Vincennes" doll are among the club's money-making projects planned for this year.

The purpose of DECA is to teach students to be leaders in the business world and to encourage interest in the field of distributive education.

DECA conducted a survey in November to help local businessmen serve the public better. It will be entered in the State Leadership Conference in March, and the members hope to go to the nationals in San Antonio, Texas, in April. They will also participate in the Central Region DECA Conference in St. Louis in November. Among the activities of the club is the arrangement of window displays in the Young Building to promote local businesses.

AGRICULTURE CLUB

The object of the club is to promote the profession of agriculture; to sponsor agricultural activities; to develop a spirit of fellowship among its members; to furnish a medium of contact with the agriculturalists of the state and nation; and to act as an official agent of the agriculture students in university matters. Anyone interested in agriculture may become a member.

Proposed club activities include a homecoming float, Moms' Weekend activities, and various other projects.

COLLEGIATE 4-H

The purpose of Collegiate 4-H, as stated in the constitution, is "... to promote the social, educational, and general welfare of 4-H club workers on the university campus; to bring together former 4-H members of different countries who have a common 4-H in mind; and to encourage members to promote 4-H club work in their local communities."

Delta Gamma Iota was founded in 1966 to establish a strong brotherhood, to maintain a high respect for education, and to promote high standards of character and morality among its members.

The Delts take part in many of the activities on campus. This year they won second place in the fall variety show, and were represented by a float in the homecoming parade. D.G.I. also sponsors a Founders' Day Banquet.

PRACTICAL NURSING CLUB

"To increase the knowledge of nursing techniques, and to use this knowledge to aid those who are in need of it," is the purpose of the Practical Nursing Club.

The activities of the Practical Nursing Club include an annual Halloween party and a Christmas party, as well as raising money through bake sales. With club dues the members buy slides and visual aids for classroom study, such as a "map" of the systems of the body. Through these aids, they build a working knowledge of human anatomy and nursing care.

The Indiana Association of Nursing Students of VU is a pre-professional organization. Its purpose is to better acquaint the nursing students with the functions of professional nursing.

Activities of the IANS include collecting for the Heart Fund and the Multiple Sclerosis Drive, volunteer work for the Red Cross and for Head Start, and money-making projects which help to send student nurse delegates to a Student Nurses Association Conference. They sponsor a queen candidate and a float for the Homecoming Parade.

INTERNATIONAL STUDENTS

The International Students Club promotes the idea that better communication among peoples will lead to a deeper understanding of ethnic differences. The members discuss general problems, plan activities such as tours of the farming areas and state parks, and provide speakers for civic groups, clubs, and churches.

Throughout the Vincennes area families act as hosts to the foreign students. These families invite the students to their homes to acquaint them with American family life and customs. Parties and visits will also be arranged over Thanksgiving, Christmas, and Easter since these students cannot return home during vacations.

The Club held an International Exhibit in February where foreign articles were sold to finance their projects. They also operated a booth at the Chili Supper, entered a float in the homecoming parade, and sponsored a faculty dinner.

ATHLETIC AWARDS BANQUET 1970

Mr. William Stegemoller and Mark Hickman at the Sports Banquet.

VU follows the Classical ideal of "Mens sana in corpore sano"—a sound mind in a sound body. To further this end, the university has an annual sports banquet every spring where its young men are honored for their achievements in the field of sports—not with the wreath of laurel leaves of old—but with golden trophies and engraved certificates. Through these awards, these young men are cited for their outstanding athletic ability, their competitive spirit, and their devotion to VU's athletic teams: basketball, cross-country, track, bowling, golf, and tennis.

Mrs. Marie McQuaid presents the McQuaid trophy to Charles Peters at the Sports Banquet.

Mr. Vernon Houchins, VU golf coach, presents a trophy to Tom Johnson.

A WORD FROM THE EDITOR

Now that we've put these last few pages together it is hard to believe that we are almost finished. With the finish comes a helpless feeling, in some ways wishing we could start all over again, in other ways being glad the 1971 LE REVOIR is done.

I have many people to thank for helping with this yearbook, especially Mrs. Marie McQuaid who has retired from the advisorship of the LE REVOIR but has been a great help to me in all the times of need during the year. Many thanks go to Mr. Richard Day, our faculty advisor and Mr. Eric Gruesbeck our company representative. Then comes my hard working staff who deserve much of the credit for the 1971 LE REVOIR. My assistant and managing editors Tim Bartz and Mike Shoptaw were constantly by my side along with the others who gave up much of their valuable time.

This has been a memorable year and as I look back all I can say is Thank you.

Bill Taylor
editor-in-chief 1971 Le Revoir

TAKE THE GOOD TIMES WITH YOU

In years to come, when you pick up this book and open it to this page and look at this picture, REMEMBER this year:

Summer's end—leaving home and living alone (you can't go home again); regimented registration; buying books; first classes; and new friends.

Fall—the red, orange, yellow leaves singing in the autumn winds or crackling underfoot; silken morning mists; on the pathways, girls smiling shyly as they pass; boys shouting boisterously back and forth; in the classrooms teachers unwinding their spools of knowledge, while the students nod in affirmation (or sleep); and on the fields footballs arc in the afternoon sky.

Winter—the trees stand stark now, black branches clutching at the pale disc of the sun; snowcovered fields and ice-glazed streets; boots trodding the snow to slush; outside the dark wind claws at the face, making the eyes water and the nose run; inside in the warm dorm rooms a thousand pairs of eyes pour over books to the fluid throb of the stereo, while in the quiet of the lounge girls softly laugh at boys yearning, burning with infatuation; and in the gym the basketball swishes through the net, the cheerleaders cheer, and the crowd yells as the Trailblazers score again.

Spring—green fingers thrusting out of the moist earth; clusters of flowers bending as one in the April breeze on the banks of the Wabash; under every tree lovers stand, or sit, or lie, smiling smiles of love—romance is in the air. Finally—finals, term papers, late hours, coffee, No-Doz, clocks ticking as young minds strain to express the lessons they have learned in class. But no examination can test those other, equally important lessons: new identities found after the agony of alienation; no term paper can contain the manifold memories, like the curving flight of a Frisbee, always returning to you, and, after all of this, no words can trace the beauty of her face and the smiles of a spring day.
